Here is a description borrowed from Wikipedia of the 3-part Triumph of the Nerds series from 1996:

It explores the development of the personal computer in the United States from WWII to 1995.

Triumph of the Nerds was written and hosted by Robert X. Cringely (Mark Stephens) and based on his 1992 book Accidental Empires. The documentary is composed of numerous interviews with important figures connected with the personal computer including Steve Jobs, Steve Wozniak, Bill Gates, Steve Ballmer, Paul Allen, Bill Atkinson, Andy Hertzfeld, Ed Roberts, and Larry Ellison. It also includes archival footage of Gary Kildall and commentary from Douglas Adams, the author of the science fiction series The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy.

Triumph of the Nerds was produced by Oregon Public Broadcasting. The video quality isn't the greatest but it is definitely viewable. It is approximately 50 minutes.
